

FELLOWSHIP IN INTEGRATIVE MEDICINE

TUITION AND EXPENSES

Fellowship in Integrative Medicine tuition is $34,550 for two years, including the holding fee, deposit, online course content, participation in dialogues and special interest groups, faculty interaction, and most residential week expenses.

Tuition Details

Application fee	This fee is submitted along with the Fellowship application and, like other payments, it is made online.	$150.00
Holding fee	Once you are invited to join the Fellowship, there is a non-refundable holding fee, due within 15 days of acceptance.	$1,500.00
Deposit	Your deposit is due 60 days from acceptance. If you are accepted less than 60 days before your start date, your deposit payment will be due immediately. For a time, the deposit (minus an administration fee) is refundable. Deposit refund requests must be made within 4 months of payment. Once the class begins, the deposit is no longer refundable. When payment is received, you will be assigned a seat in the next open class. Payment of fees does not guarantee a seat in a specific class.	$4,000.00
Tuition	We offer a number of payment options so you can plan and budget accordingly for the two years of study. Payments may be structured in one of the following ways: 1 payment: $29,050 2 yearly payments: $14,525 each year 8 quarterly payments: $3,631.25 each. (Made quarterly, dependent on start date) 20 monthly payments: $1,481.55 each. (Made on the 5th of each month)	$29,050.00
CME	To allow physicians to meet continuing education requirements for licensure, CME credit is offered for the residential weeks and some online curriculum, totaling approximately 100 hours over the two years.	No Additional Cost
Other Expenses	Fellows are independently responsible for a number of other costs not included in tuition: computer hardware and internet access charges, recommended and optional text books, and lodging and travel expenses for residential weeks in Tucson, for example. (Breakfasts, lunches and some dinners are covered by tuition.)  The following illustrates potential residential week expenses: Hotel stay for one week: $950.00 Travel expenses: $800.00 Additional food & Misc: $45.00 For the 3 required residential weeks, these charges could total $5,385.00	$5,385.00 (estimated)
Total	Total estimated expenses for the Fellowship in Integrative Medicine.	$40,085.00
